

WILEY

Webinar Series

Wiley Webinar Session 1:

Mastering Journal Submissions: A Researcher's Guide

Tuesday, September 17, 2024 | 4:00 PM - 5:00 PM IST

This session is meticulously designed to guide researchers through the essential steps of crafting and submitting articles to academic journals, with a specific focus on Wiley publications. Attendees will gain a thorough understanding of publication ethics, plagiarism, common reasons for article rejections, and the specific expectations that editors have for authors and their work. By demystifying these crucial aspects, the session aims to empower researchers with the knowledge and confidence needed to successfully navigate the academic publishing landscape. Topics included are:

- How to write a scientific article/paper
- Publication tips and tricks and Ethics
- Special Issues.
- Wiley's Hybrid/Gold OA journals.
- Wiley's Transformational Agreements and their benefits.

Register Now

Speaker: Hogleh Dasari

Hogleh Dasari has been a key member of Wiley's team since 2018, where she specializes in developing special issues and contributing to the Strategic Content Acquisition (SCA) team for Life Sciences and Physical Sciences journals. Her rapid establishment of high-impact journals and proactive engagement with editors and the scientific community highlight her expertise. With over 16 years in publishing, including a decade at Elsevier, Hogleh brings a wealth of experience to her role. She holds a Master of Philosophy in Life Sciences and is recognized for her contributions to scholarly publishing through numerous author workshops, board recruitment, and journal development initiatives.
